

The background of the image consists of a rich, deep red fabric, likely velvet or a similar plush material, draped in a classic theatrical style. The fabric is gathered at the top into a wide, curved valance, and then hangs down in deep, vertical folds. The lighting is soft, highlighting the texture and sheen of the material, with subtle gradients of red and dark shadows in the folds. The overall effect is one of elegance and formality, typical of a stage or a formal presentation.

Le lycée Fénelon présente:

The background of the image is a close-up, slightly blurred view of the United States flag, showing the stars and stripes in detail. The flag is draped and has a soft, wavy texture. The colors are vibrant, with a deep blue field for the stars and bright red and white stripes.

IN CONGRESS, JULY 4, 1776.

A DECLARATION

BY THE REPRESENTATIVES OF THE

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

IN GENERAL CONGRESS ASSEMBLED.

WHEN in the Course of human Events, it becomes necessary for one People to dissolve the Political Bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the Powers of the Earth, the separate and equal Station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent Respect to the Opinions of Mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the Separation.

We hold these Truths to be self-evident, that all Men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness—That to secure these Rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just Powers from the Consent of the Governed, that whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these Ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its Foundation on such Principles, and organizing its Powers in such Form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient Causes; and accordingly all Experience hath shewn, that Mankind are more disposed to suffer, while Evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the Forms to which they are accustomed. But when a long Train of Abuses and Usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object, evinces a Design to reduce them under absolute Despotism, it is their Right, it is their Duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future Security. Such has been the Patient Sufferance of these Colonies, and such is now the Necessity which constrains them to alter their former Systems of Government. The History of the present Facts be submitted to a candid World.

He has refused his Assent to Laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the People, which he has frequently suspended in their Operation all by himself, and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.

He has refused to pass other Laws for the Accommodation of large Districts of People, unless those People would relinquish the Right of Representation in the Legislature, a Right inestimable to them, and formidable to Tyrants only.

He has called together Legislative Bodies at Places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the Depository of their public Records, for the sole Purpose of deceiving them into Compliance with his Measures.

A PATRIOTIC SONG.

Con Spirito

O! say can you see by the dawn's early light, What so proudly we hail'd at the twilight's last gleaming, Whose broad stripes & bright stars thro' perilous fight, O'er the ramparts we watch'd, were so gallantly streaming. And the Flag was still there, O! say does that star spangled Banner yet wave, O'er the Land of the free, and the home of the brave

On the shore dimly seen through the mists of the deep,
Where the foe's haughty host in dread silence reposes,
What is that which the breeze, o'er the towering steep,
As it fitfully blows, half conceals, half discloses,
Now it catches the gleam of the morning's first beam,
In full glory reflected new shines in the stream,
'Tis the star-spangled banner, O! long may it wave,
O'er the land of the free, and the home of the brave.

And where is that band who so vauntingly swore,
That the havoc of war and the battle's confusion,
A home and a country, shall leave us no more,
Their blood has wash'd out their foul footsteps' pollution,
No refuge could save the hireling and slave,
From the terror of flight or the gloom of the grave,
And the star-spangled banner, in triumph doth wave,
O'er the Land &c.

O! thus be it ever when freemen shall stand,
Between their lov'd home, and the war's desolation,
Blest with vict'ry and peace, may the heav'n rescued land,
Praise the Pow'r that hath made and preserv'd us a nation!
Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just,
And this be our motto—"In God is our Trust";
And the star-spangled banner, in triumph shall wave,
O'er the Land &c.

A large group of young people, approximately 256 in total, are posing for a group photo on a busy city street. The group is arranged in several rows, with some people sitting on the ground in the front and others standing behind. They are dressed in casual, contemporary clothing from the early 2000s, including t-shirts, jeans, and button-down shirts. Some individuals are holding up white t-shirts with "I ♥ NY" printed on them. In the foreground, a person is sitting in a wheelchair. The background shows a typical city street scene with buildings, traffic lights, and a "PETCO" store sign. The overall atmosphere is festive and social.
